INTERACTION DESIGNER

CREATIVE LICENCE DIGITAL • JAN 2013 - CURRENT

Creative Licence Digital is a boutique digital agency located in Sydney's Manly Beach. While we're only a small company, we work with a range of big clients, often delivering to users all around the world.

I've been fortunate enough to be able to work across a range of areas over my two years at CLD, including wireframing, content creation, user experience design, art direction, interface design, graphic design and front-end development (mostly web, along with some iOS), with my main focus being in UI design and front-end web development. The majority of projects I work on are hybrid apps, as well as responsive websites and some native iOS apps.

I've also worked as a...
